CAPSICUMÂ - This is probably the most effective and harmless stimulant in the herbal kingdom. People today often complain of not having enough energy. Capsicum produces an immediate effect of heat and energy. It is not known to actually burn or blister although in pure strength, may taste like liquid fire. The renowned doctor and surgeon, William Beaumont, observed, in his now classic observations of the stomach through a hole, which formed after a gunshot wound to a young fur trapper, that Capsicum does not irritate in any way the lining of the human stomach, despite its sensation of great heat.

That Capsicum cleans infected mucus from the stomach, digestive tract, circulatory system and other organs should be understood. It does not produce mucus. Increased circulation to the stomach gives it a healthy pink glow, not to be mistaken for irritation. Indeed, Capsicum is used by the Mormons and the people of the Balkan countries to heal bleeding ulcers of the stomach.Â

Capsicum stops the flow of all unnatural bleeding within seconds. It may be administered internally or externally with the same results. To stop heart attacks, 40 to 80 drops of the extract in a cup of water is drunk immediately. The heart attack will stop in short order. A powerful influence is exerted at the same time over the nervous system to produce a great clam of abundant energy.Â

NOTE: Capsicum will stop bleeding of all unnatural types internally and externally, but will not stop menstrual bleeding or internal bleeding of a cleansing nature. Much gas is often expelled as Capsicum works to restore order, thus headaches are also commonly relieved. The U.S. Dispensatory Part I recommends Capsicum as a totally workable remedy for malignant sore throats and also as a gargle.Â

The best action of Capsicum is prolonged by the addition of a catalyst herb. Hence, Capsicum is often combined with other herbs as in the Herbal Adjustment [see listing for Herbal Adjustment]. It is also strongly recommended by the U.S. Dispensatory for local application for joint pains especially due to rheumatism. Capsicum should be a part of every home emergency kit and its regular use as a food cannot be too strongly recommended.

SUGGESTED DOSE: 20 to 40 drops of the extract, diluted in a cup of water, as often as needed or apply externally as given above. If contact with eyes or private areas, don't panic, or be frightened. Flush with water and be patient, calm and peace will return.
